Preface	15
Patrick Caron
Chapter 1. Reconsidering innovation to address sustainable development Guy Faure, Emilie Coudel, Christophe T. Soulard and Hubert Devautour	17
1.1 Introduction	17
1.2 Innovation for what kind of development?	19
1.3 Research on innovation changes to progressively take into account complexity	22
1.4 New questions, new debates	27
References	31
Part I. Thinking innovation differently	35
Chapter 2. Standards governing agricultural innovation. Where do we come from? Where should we be going?	37
Lawrence Busch
2.1 Introduction	37
2.2 Standards: building realities	37
2.3 Before agricultural research: the farmer as experimenter	38
2.4 Agricultural research as public good, 1600-1980	40
2.5 Agricultural research as private good, ca. 1980 – present	42
Box 2.1. From commodification to commonization of seeds. Pieter Lemmens and Guido Ruivenkamp	44
2.6 Supermarkets, processors, and the standards revolution	47
2.7 The coming storm	48
2.8 Widening the scope of agricultural research	49
• Box 2.2. Sustaining standards in a complex world: the case of SRI. Shambu Prasad Chebrolu	50
• Box 2.3. An example of reorientation of agricultural research to benefit small producers in Brazil.	51

Chapter 10. Policies to foster innovation in the Mediterranean region	185
Karim Hussein and Khalid El Harizi 10.1 Context: global and regional challenges for agriculture and food - the innovation imperative	185
10.2 Concepts of innovation and implications for policy, research and action	187
10.3 International frameworks and strategies to foster innovation in science and technology	188
 Box 10.1. Example of an inter-regional network to foster agricultural innovation: the regional Association of Agricultural Research Institutions in the Near East and North Africa (AARINENA).	190
10.4 National strategies and policies to foster agricultural innovation in the
Mediterranean region: Morocco's new 'Green Plan' agricultural strategy	192
10.5 AFD-supported programmes to foster agricultural innovation at the local level in Morocco: incentives, governance and implementation modalities	194 Box 10.2. A dual process of learning from an institutional innovation: the case of participatory irrigation management in Morocco.	196
Zakaria Kadiri, Marcel Kuper, Mostafa Errahj
10.6 Implications from the case studies for policies to foster innovation in the Mediterranean region	196
• Box 10.3. Institutional innovations to help adoption of technical innovations for cereal cultivation in Tunisia.	198
