

IV ILACDS

International Latin American
Clostridioides difficile Symposium

Dear Dr. Claire Janoir,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to the 4th International Latin American Clostridioides difficile symposium - ILACDS (online event), which will be held on November 6-8, 2023 as plenary lecture untitled “The Clostridioides difficile biofilm: myths and realities” at November 6, at 9:30 h (UTC -3). The ILACDS will provide a fantastic platform for notable speakers, clinical and medical professionals, researchers, and industry leaders from across the world to learn, share and network. Your ideas and skills as a researcher in the field are extremely valuable and necessary for a successful conference. We would like to encourage you and your research group(s) to submit their work to the ILACDS, which will be presented as a flash talk if chosen. We really like to have your gracious presence at our esteemed conference.

Sincerely,
The Committee organizer
